

A Symbol of Unmatched Quality

The Bio-Elite® system enables Bioriginal Food & Science Corp. to guarantee quality with rigorous standards, extensive testing, documented processes, and recognized certification. Bio-Elite® is not just a processing system, it is a quality guarantee for each and every bottle of Bioriginal Flax and Borage Oil.

Through our Bio-Elite® system, Bioriginal does not simply buy seed; our agronomists select premium seeds and work with a proven set of growers. We are the only company who holds education sessions with our growers on farming practices, and even visits each farm to ensure our quality procedures are followed. Our growers are a part of Bioriginal; not just as producers, but as shareholders and even board members.

But premium certified seed and strict procedures are not enough for Bio-Elite®. To ensure purity, our flax and borage is tested by a certified third party laboratory to guarantee our flax and borage is free from herbicides, pesticides, heavy metals, and other contaminants. In addition, Bioriginal is the only supplier to insist on third party testing for its flaxseed at the DNA level to guarantee our flaxseeds are non-GMO.

By positioning our plant and private storage facility in the heart of the prairies in Saskatchewan, Canada, we minimize transportation time. This helps preserve the oil's natural taste, color, and essential fatty acid content by reducing damage from longer transport routes.

To further protect our oils, the Bio-Elite® process is designed to eliminate exposure to light and ensure controlled temperatures during processing, cooling, filtration, and bottling. Bioriginal makes certain neither element will affect the quality of our oils. We even flush our storage tanks with nitrogen to prevent exposure to oxygen.

The seeds are pressed only enough to extract the most valuable oil, leaving the bitter last drops and unwanted particulate behind. No hexane, solvents, or other harsh chemicals are used in producing our oil.

Bioriginal guarantees purity, stability, and active ingredient content with certified third party testing. Every person and every step of the Bio-Elite® process meet the strict standards of the Natural Health Products Directorate Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP). In addition to this certification, Bioriginal will continue to manufacture in compliance with the more stringent pharmaceutical-level GMPs. We guarantee our quality with documented procedures, adherence to rigorous GMP standards, and intensive testing.

Bio-Elite® is not just a logo, it is a symbol of unmatched quality that you can be confident of. BioAsteri™ and BioFlaxElite™ are manufactured using the Bio-Elite® system.
