Company Overview

Who We Are

Bioriginal creates innovative essential fatty acid (EFA) solutions for the nutraceutical, functional food, skin care, cosmetics, animal feed, pet and veterinary and over-the-counter pharmaceutical industries around the world. Our distribution network spans six continents, with facilities in Canada, the United States, Europe and China.

As a complete EFA supplier, Bioriginal provides EFAs including borage (BioAsteri™), fish, flax (BioFlaxElite™), evening primrose, black currant, hemp, echium, perilla, camelina, CLA and more. Delivery systems range from bulk oil and capsules, to finished, packaged products. In addition to the standard oil or seed formats, Bioriginal provides custom formulations, highly-concentrated EFA oils, water-soluble EFA powders, and a line of flax-based supplement and functional food products, all with delicious flavor solutions.

Science Drives Our Success

An integral component of Bioriginal's success is our focus on Science and Clinical Research. We stay current on the latest EFA research, are actively involved in testing and clinical trials, and have close relationships with the scientific community in North America and across the globe.

Our commitment to science has allowed us to stay on the leading edge of technology and product development. Bioriginal is the world's first company to receive GRAS-certification for its borage oil BioAsteri™. We have patents pending for proprietary manufacturing methods, as well as proprietary plant strains. Bioriginal's focus on science and innovation has led to better products for our customers including delicious EFA drink mixes and flavored oils, innovative flax-based solutions and condition-specific formulas developed to bring the benefits of EFAs to society.

Our Vision

To be the global leader, providing integrated, innovative EFA-based solutions to the nutritional supplement industry.
